

The week ahead...

Spring 2 Week 1: w/c 27th February 2023

Good morning,

Hallelujah – half term is finally here! Well done for another busy week – a well earned rest is definitely needed by all. Next half term is a short but busy one, especially as the first week back is 'World Book Week'. Alice and Charlotte have asked if you could take part in the #Shelfie competition by taking a selfie of you in front of a book shelf. It would be great to show these to the children. There's plenty going on so please look at the plan and help out where you can. Have a wonderful half term everyone and thank you for all of your hard work this half term!
