

The week ahead...

Summer 1 Week 2: w/c 24th April 2023

Good morning,

Congratulations for surviving the first week back after the Easter holidays. Even with the best of breaks, the first week is always a hard one for staff and children alike. It's hard to believe we're into the final term of this academic year already and I'm certain it will fly by with all of the different special days, bank holidays and different events that we experience during this term. This week's bulletin has some key dates for the remainder of the summer term so please make a note of these in the diary as they'll no doubt creep up on us quickly.

Thank you to everyone for starting the wall displays in the corridor. It really is wonderful to work with a team who embrace a new initiative and run with it with such passion and enthusiasm. Could you please ensure your children keep the shelves free of lunchboxes and bottles as this will help to keep the displays looking wonderful.

Thank you!

The King's Coronation Celebrations

On Friday 5th May, we will celebrate the King's Coronation in school. We have already invited the children to make their own crown out of recycled and natural materials and they will wear these during the day. It would be lovely if you could do the same!

We're hoping the weather will be good so that we can have a large picnic in the playground to mark the event and the dress theme will be Red, White and Blue for the day.

Staff Meeting

The staff meeting on Wednesday 26th April is focused on 'PREVENT' training and will take place in Paul's office.

Song of the week

We have 3 birthdays coming up in the 7 days including John and Wayne this weekend and Lewis on Wednesday. Trying to find a song for all 3 of them hasn't been easy so, as John's birthday is first, this week the song of the week is his song choice. We hope you all have a wonderful birthday and enjoy Blowin' in the Wind by Bob Dylan... which is pretty appropriate given the chilly April conditions we're currently enduring.

Gentle reminders

Please remember the following:

- Tea money to Lorna,
- Journey of Faith Slides to be completed,
- Impact records to be updated,
- Check the RAG rating on your action plans.

Thank you!

Have a fabulous weekend!
Paul, Alison and Rachel
